AFTER THE RAIN

5th National Indigenous Art Triennial

EDITED BY TONY ALBERT, SALLY BRAND

- Documents the creative processes behind 10 major contemporary First Nations art projects
- Edited by the exhibition's artistic director, renowned artist Tony Albert, Girramay/Yidinji/Kuku-Yalanji peoples
- Includes original artist portraits by Vincent Namatjira, celebrated Western Aranda painter
- Features commissioned essays by prominent First Nations writers Bruce Johnson McLean, Jilda Andrews, Daniel Browning and Yessie Mosby
- The publication's innovative design by internationally award-winning designer Evi O challenges and disrupts the structure of a traditional art book
- Inspired by Tony Albert's After the Rain artist book, the design methodology draws on First Nations knowledge systems that are cyclic, non-linear and relational — echoing the project's intent to Indigenise space and place
- Supported by the National Gallery of Australia Summer blockbuster marketing campaign

After the Rain documents the creative processes of 10 contemporary art projects commissioned for the National Gallery of Australia's major recurrent exhibition dedicated to First Nations art and artists in Australia, the National Indigenous Art Triennial. This, the fifth iteration, features projects by Thea Anamara Perkins; Blaklash; Aretha Brown; House of Namatjira, with works by Albert Namatjira, Vincent Namatjira, Hermannsburg Potters and Iltja Ntjarra Art Centre; Grace Kemarre Robinya and Yarrenyty Arltere Artists; Naminapu Maymuru-White; Dylan Mooney; Alair Pambeagan; Jimmy John Thaiday; and Warraba Weatherall.

Edited by the exhibition's artistic director Tony Albert, the publication shares stories of artistic collaborations, longstanding friendships and generational practices from all over the country, including Erub in Zenadth Kes/Torres Strait Islands, Ntaria/Hermannsburg in Central Australia and Naarm/Melbourne.

Alongside artist profiles, the publication includes commissioned essays addressing legacies, identities and climate change by contributing First Nations writers Bruce Johnson McLean, Jilda Andrews, Daniel Browning and Yessie Mosby. Original portraits of the exhibition's artists by the celebrated Western Aranda painter Vincent Namatjira punctuate a vibrantly illustrated publication.

After the Rain invites readers to engage with First Nations art and artists, and acknowledge and celebrate the cultural warriors of the past, present and future.

What drives someone to commit the unthinkable? In Running Amok, forensic psychiatrist Paul E. Mullen burrows into the minds of mass murderers to learn how and why they become spectres haunting modern communities.

Drawing on decades of experience assessing killers such as the perpetrator of the 1996 Port Arthur massacre in Australia, Mullen examines the key forces that unite them: obsessive rage, personal grievance, fascination with weapons and a quest for infamy – often culminating in suicide. Mullen reveals these killers not as incomprehensible monsters, but as deeply disturbed individuals shaped by knowable forces. Crucially, he offers guidance on recognising warning signs and improving threat assessment. He also explores the corrosive role of media sensationalism, which fuels grandiose fantasies and inspires copycat violence.

Running Amok is both a searing investigation into mass murder and a call to action, urging society to confront these dark realities and prevent the next horror.

EUCALYPTUS

STEPHEN D. HOPPER

- This book blends Aboriginal knowledge and Western science to uncover the rich natural and cultural history of eucalypts, as well as their biology and conservation
- Explores their evolution, cultural significance and surprising roles in modern life, offering insights into sustainable ways to coexist with these remarkable trees
- Featuring stunning photographs from fifty years of fieldwork, this is the first comprehensive review of Aboriginal eucalypt wisdom, paired with cutting-edge scientific discoveries

Eucalypts, iconic to Australia, have shaped art, science and landscapes worldwide. With around nine hundred species, from towering giants to compact mallees, these trees inspire awe and curiosity. Their hardwood has driven industries, sparked protests and even toppled governments. Their aromatic leaves hold healing properties yet fuel devastating wildfires.

‘Having experienced Eucalyptus trees in their native Australian haunts, I fell in love with them and was intrigued by their diversity and beauty. This book on Eucalyptus provides the reader with a unique experience: wonderful descriptions of these amazing trees and bountiful information on their uses and cultural significance that are so important in the lives of Australian Aborigines. I enjoyed Stephen D. Hopper’s book immensely and highly recommend it to anyone interested in Australia and plants.’ – Mark W. Chase, Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew

SO YOU WANT TO OWN GREENLAND?

Lessons from the Vikings to Trump

ELIZABETH BUCHANAN

- Local print for September release!
- An indispensable guide to Greenland – why it matters, who covets it and why this wilderness of 56,000 inhabitants could become the next global flashpoint
- Concise history of Greenland's strategic importance
- Starts with the Vikings, whose mysterious disappearance in the 1400s remains one of history's great puzzles
- Shows how this icy expanse has become the latest pawn in the 'Great Game'

Greenland is no ordinary island. From its discovery by Norsemen to its contemporary strategic significance, it has been a frontier for human exploration and empire, today emerging as a facilitator of geoeconomic competition. This book delves into the rich history and complex politics of Greenland, revealing how this icy expanse has shaped – and been shaped by – the world.

This short history begins with the Vikings, whose mysterious disappearance from Greenland in the 1400s remains one of history's great puzzles. It then explores the island's gradual transformation from a Danish possession to an autonomous territory, charting its role during the World Wars and its strategic importance during the Cold War.

Greenland finds itself at the centre of a renewed 'great game', balancing transatlantic ties, rising Chinese influence, and mounting domestic pressures for independence. And that's before President Trump's agenda is factored in.

Starting from Trump's plan to purchase Greenland, Elizabeth Buchanan dissects the island's contemporary role and poses four provocative scenarios for its future – from full independence to an icy geopolitical standoff with Denmark. So You Want to Own Greenland? is an essential read for anyone curious about the future of this frozen frontier and its place on the global stage.

FIERY TALES

The Correspondence of Gwen Harwood and Larry Sitsky

EDITED BY ANN-MARIE PRIEST, PREFACE BY PETER GOLDSWORTHY

- Ann-Marie Priest is the recipient of the 2023 National Biography Award and the 2024 Magarey Medal for Biography for *My Tongue Is My Own: A Life of Gwen Harwood
- Featuring a preface by celebrated Australian writer and librettist Peter Goldsworthy AM, it unveils the process behind six groundbreaking Australian operas through the intimate, witty and sometimes combative correspondence of two major figures
- Includes never-before-published letters offering insights into creative practice, cultural politics and gendered tensions in Australian arts
- Suitable for 2026 literary festivals, opera programming and academic events. Potential for events in Sitsky's home city of Canberra, as well as Hobart (where Harwood lived) and northern Queensland (where Priest is based)

A revealing inside look at a brilliant creative partnership.

This lively correspondence between celebrated poet Gwen Harwood and renowned composer Larry Sitsky, covering their creation of a series of acclaimed and at times controversial operas, gives an insight into a unique collaboration between two highly gifted Australian artists in the second half of the twentieth century. It brings to life the formation of six groundbreaking operatic works while giving a fascinating glimpse into the very different lives of two important Australian cultural figures.

Introduced by acclaimed biographer and scholar Ann-Marie Priest, these letters, collected together for the first time, reveal a dynamic creative partnership. Each chapter charts the development of a different work and offers historical and biographical context. The portrait that emerges is compelling, propulsive and illuminating, as the tensions and emerging affinities between the two artists set the stage for the creation of great works.

Praise for My Tongue is My Own

'Gwen Harwood, that excellent poet and critic, deserves a sympathetic and lively biography. Ann-Marie Priest, to her credit, has just written that book.' – Ann Blainey, winner of 2009 National Biography Award

'This is a big book but it is a genuine thrill to read, a page-turner and a classic expression of the biographical form. It's an astonishing achievement.' – Rick Morton

'...Cooke is one of our more exciting writers on poetry...' – Caitlin Maling, Plumwood Mountain Journal

APPLES & ORANGES

adventures in poetics

STUART COOKE

- Essays on poetry and poetics from one of Australia's most accomplished younger poets
- Cooke's fifth book, adding to growing reputation as a critic
- A timely edition to P&W's list of books on poetry and poetics

The essays of Apples & Oranges are selected from a decade of sustained enquiry into the possibilities for human & more-than human poetics in the Anthropocene. Drawing on Cooke's experiences as a poet, critic, traveller and translator, the landscapes are predominantly Antarctic, Australasian, and North & South American. New continental, intellectual and affective formations emerge here as hybrids of memoir, travelogue and literary criticism. Or a plethora of songs and signs are rescued from the wastelands of colonial imaginaries. Often, the search for meaning leads to poems; sometimes it leads to the contours of Cooke's own life. Indeed, the logics are poetic rather than sequential: allusion, collage, fragment and metaphor compose recurrent, occasionally symphonic structures.

In line with the book's title, the essays interrogate – and often transgress – boundaries between poetry & prose, art & science, and human & non-human, and the general tenor is both exploratory and precautionary: as the planet cooks into catastrophe, leaf-cutter ants make symbiotic sculptures, lyrebirds make forest operas, steel becomes sentient, the Brazilian Amazon blends with the Australian Outback, and Roman ruins foreshadow giant bergs breaking from the Antarctic ice sheet.

Writing Advice from the World's Most Successful Authors

EDITED BY HUW LEWIS-JONES

- Original advice on how you can start writing from 60 contemporary authors, drawing on their unique experiences and journeys to the written word
- Advice is grouped for easy references, from how to begin and picture scenes, to writers' golden rules
- Illustrated with over 20 original drawings

In this specially commissioned anthology, 60 accomplished authors share secrets and insights into their writing lives: on their inspirations, methods, wild ideas and daily routines; on the pleasure and the pain in achieving their literary goals; on how they started out and how they hope to continue. They outline some golden rules for staying on track and talk candidly about what goes wrong as well as right.

Emerging talents sit alongside much-loved authors whose books have sold in their millions. Each reflects in their own way on the creative process and the compulsion to write. How to find inspiration? How to get the words right? How to cope with writer's block? And where do the good ideas really come from?

Includes contributions from Cressida Cowell, Matt Haig, Joanne Harris, David Mitchell, Jan Morris, Onjali Q Raúf, Michael Rosen, Irvine Welsh, Tracy Chevalier, Thomas Keneally, Kiran Millwood Hargrave, Tom Gauld and Benjamin Myers.

DESIGNING HOPE

Visions to Shape Our Future

SARAH HOUSLEY

- Through the lens of four emerging futures – More-than-human, Degrowth, Solarpunk and the Metaverse – Sarah Housley shows us visions of hope that inspire action and critical thinking about how we'll live in the decades to come

When did we stop dreaming of a better future? What happened to the sci-fi golden age of the 1950s, when futurism flourished as a discipline and drove innovation?

As a society, either we struggle to imagine something good for the times to come or we fail to picture any future at all. Our world is in polycrisis; we face climate breakdown, societal fracturing, governmental collapse, war, and rising inequality.

The exciting outcomes we dreamed of, from the space race to the wonder material plastic, have brought contingent problems of their own. We haven't yet developed mainstream and accessible new narratives to replace these failures, and if you ask someone to imagine 'the future', they'll probably still picture flying cars.

Designing Hope resets expectations.

'We need some adventure in the fight for a workable future – some stuff to be aiming at and dreaming about. This book will fire up your imagination!' – Bill McKibben

'Designing Hope by Sarah Housley is essential reading – an antidote to doomscrolling in an age of mounting crises. Housley offers a rare and spirited optimism, made all the more powerful by its grounding in fact. The book reminds us that, before we can build a better future, we must allow ourselves to imagine that it's possible. I finished the book with the sense that, if we can hope enough to try, human ingenuity will triumph.'

– Emily Buchanan, author of *Send Flowers

'Many of us today feel trapped in the present; absorbed in the anxiety of consequences, resulting from the many failed promises of the industrial and technological age...Designing Hope offers us a powerful and pragmatic alternative – to be part of a creative force imagining new horizons.'

– Nick Breeze, author of COPOUT and host of the ClimateGenn podcast

THE FOOTBALL

The Amazing Mathematics of the World's Most Watched Object

ÉTIENNE GHYS, TRANSLATED BY TERESA LAVENDER FAGAN

- Featuring a wealth of colour illustrations, The Football blends a lively narrative with insights from a world-renowned geometer to tell a mathematical story unlike any other

The Football takes readers on an entertaining and fact-filled exploration of the mathematical secrets of the most popular spherical object on the planet. The football is familiar to billions of fans across the globe, but how many really look at it? Do footballs all have the same shape? Spoiler: not exactly. How does their shape affect how they play? With Étienne Ghys as our guide, we discover why ballistics, friction, and air flow are key to scoring goals – and why the football is a mathematical problem that engineers are still trying to solve.

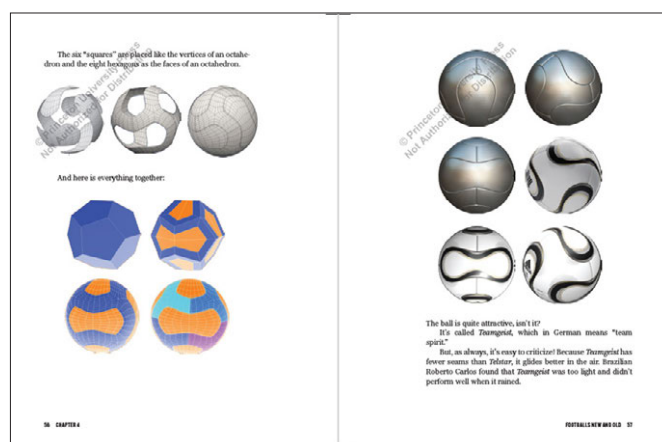

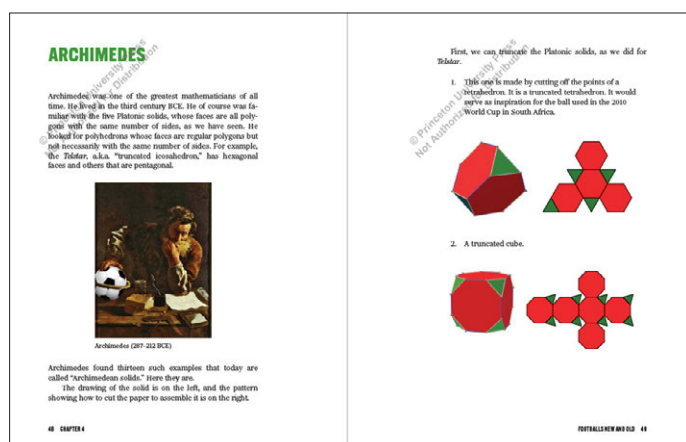

Ghys begins with the classic Telstar ball used in the 1970 World Cup in Mexico. Its twelve black pentagons and twenty white hexagons are what most of us picture when we think of the sport. Following the story through successive World Cups, he shows how engineers constantly challenge themselves to reinvent the ball, aiming for a perfect sphere while accounting for manufacturing requirements and aerodynamics. Along the way, Ghys introduces us to the mathematics of Platonic solids, symmetries, polyhedra, turbulence, roughness, drag, and spin. He paints engaging portraits of the engineers and sports insiders who study and apply these phenomena and explains how the skills of players factor into how the ball behaves, whether the game is being played in stadiums, schoolyards, or backyards.

WOUND MAN

The Many Lives of a Surgical Image

JACK HARTNELL

- Marvellously illustrated, Wound Man sheds light on the entwined histories of art and medicine, showing how premodern medical diagrams represent a unique site of contact between sickness, cure, painting, and print

The Wound Man – a medical diagram depicting a figure fantastically pierced by weapons and ravaged by injuries and diseases – was reproduced widely across the medieval and early modern globe. In this panoramic book, Jack Hartnell charts the emergence and endurance of this striking image, used as a visual guide to the treatment of many ailments. Taking readers on a remarkable journey from medieval Europe to eighteenth-century Japan, Hartnell explains the historic popularity of this gruesome image and why the Wound Man continues to intrigue us today.

Drawing on a wealth of original research, Hartnell traces the many lives of the Wound Man, from its origins in late medieval Bohemia to its vivid reincarnations in hundreds of manuscripts and printed books over more than three hundred years. Transporting readers beyond the specifics of bodily injury, Hartnell demonstrates how the Wound Man's body was at once an encyclopedic repository of surgical knowledge, a fantastic literary and religious muse, a catalyst for shifting media landscapes, and a cross-cultural artistic feat that reached diverse audiences around the world. The Wound Man, we discover, held profound importance not only for healers and patients but also for scribes, students, nuns, monks, printmakers, and poets.

'This book offers a stunning three-hundred-year visual chronicle of surgical technique, procedure, instrumentation, and much else. Jack Hartnell brilliantly employs the remarkably persistent image of the Wound Man to explore learned and vernacular medicine, the fascinating landscape of early print, and increasingly aesthetic illustration practices in crowded book markets as the Wound Man is reproduced and recreated through seventeenth-century Europe and far beyond.' – Pamela H. Smith, author of From Lived Experience to the Written Word

'A brilliantly conceived and meticulously executed account of the varied contexts in which Wound Man appeared as a carrier of knowledge and mediator of healing practices. Jack Hartnell seamlessly stitches together medical history, medieval natural philosophy, the history of the book, and the history of the scientific image. Wound Man, the stuff of legends, has finally received a true hero's welcome.' – Mitchell Merback, author of Perfection's Therapy

MA: THE JAPANESE SECRET TO CONTEMPLATION AND CALM

An Invitation to Awareness

EDITED BY KEN RODGERS, JOHN EINARSEN

- An exploration of the Japanese concept of ma (a 'pause' or 'space') in 16 fascinating essays teaching us how to appreciate moments of 'pause' in our own lives to relax and find peace of mind
- The contributors, well-known experts in their fields, look at how ma is experienced in Japanese music and the arts, in Japanese gardens and the tea ceremony, and how it can be applied in our daily lives
- Illustrated with 80 stunning colour and b&w photographs
- Will appeal to anyone interested in Japanese and Zen Buddhist culture as well as those seeking to relieve the stresses of everyday life

'Ma – the emptiness in which time, space and thoughts are suspended – is an invitation to awareness.'

The traditional Japanese concept of ma refers to a pause or a space, 'the moment of no action, the stillness and silence that is filled with more powerful energy than the moments of action' on the classic Noh stage. It also refers to the pauses taken in between notes by a shakuhachi flute player or the spaces between stones in a Zen garden which reveal unexpected vistas and perspectives.

The thought-provoking essays in this book are the work of sixteen talented writers and artists with vast experience in the fields of Japanese art, religion, music and philosophy. They show us how the experience of ma in the traditional Zen arts and practices can be used to create a greater awareness of our surroundings to vastly improve our lives in many other areas.

Highlights include:

- The Unspoken Space We Share by Pico Iyer, who reflects on our word choice, the way we speak to each other and the pauses in our everyday conversations
- Some Gravel Some Stones by Steven Mansfield, who explores deliberate spaces in Japanese garden design and how these provide us with moments of calm
- Photographic Ma by Robert van Koesveld, who draws our attention to the mysterious communicative power of 'spaces' in photographic compositions that draw us in on a subconscious level
- Between Form and Emptiness, an interview with artist Miya Ando, whose work in metal, canvas and sculpture is deeply rooted in Zen Buddhist philosophy and reflects the human experience of time, the seasons and ephemerality
- Plus twelve other fascinating essays

Faith of a Nation

PETER ACKROYD

- Now in paperback!
- Peter Ackroyd's magisterial portrayal of English Christianity over the last 1,400 years, now available in paperback
- Surveys the lives and faith of Christianity's most important figures, from the Venerable Bede to C. S. Lewis, Julian of Norwich and William Blake, among many others
- Takes in the tumultuous years of the Reformation, the emergence of the English bible, the evangelical tradition, and the contemporary contest between tradition, revival and atheism

Now available in paperback, The English Soul portrays the spirit and nature of English Christianity as it has developed over the last 1,400 years.

As the predominant faith of the people, Christianity has been the reflection, perhaps the embodiment, of the English soul. This fascinating new history argues that Christianity has been the anchoring and defining doctrine of England, while accepting respectfully that other powerful and significant faiths have also influenced the religious sensibility of this nation. Peter Ackroyd surveys the lives and faith of the most important figures of English Christianity, from the Venerable Bede to C. S. Lewis, exploring the mysticism of Julian of Norwich and William Blake, the tumultuous years of the Reformation, the emergence of the English Bible, the evangelical tradition, including John Wesley, and the contemporary contest between tradition, revival and atheism. This is an essential, comprehensive and accessible survey of English Christianity.

UNFUCK YOUR BRAIN GRAPHIC GUIDE

Using Science to Get Over Anxiety, Depression, Anger, Freak-Outs, and Triggers

DR. FAITH G. HARPER, ILLUSTRATED BY GERTA OPARAKU EGY

- Based on bestselling Unfuck Your Brain, which has sold over 10k copies, now available as a graphic novel

Dr. Faith's original hit, Unfuck Your Brain in a new, illustrated format is appropriate for adult and young-adult readers alike.

Your brain has a mind of its own. And sometimes, even when it's doing its best, it can feel like it's out to get you. If you've ever had a meltdown in class, suffered emotions nobody understands, or found yourself shutting down at the worst time, you know this all too well. Thankfully, this graphic guide is here to help you understand your brain and retrain it to better respond to serious upheavals as well as everyday indignities.

This fresh take on the bestseller presents Dr. Faith's insights and neuroscientific nerdiness (and swearing) as a nonfiction graphic novel with artwork by Gerta O. Egy. If you're struggling with trauma, depression, anxiety, anger, grief, or addiction, or if you just want to have a more chill response to life, this guide will help you get your brain back on track so you can take on the world.

1001 MAGICAL PLANTS

The Complete Book of Botanicals for Every Purpose
CASSANDRA EASON

- Part of the successful 1001 series
- This encyclopedic volume will include more herbal remedies and magical plants than almost any other reference, with independent research from a variety of sources around the world. The number of plants and herbs it profiles is unmatched by any other reference on the market
- There has been an explosion of interest in the subjects of herbalism, alternative medicine, and plant magic online
- Foil-stamped exterior features a selection from the over 300 illustrations in the interior

Plant medicine is as old as human civilisation itself and has served to heal, enlighten, and protect for millennia. In this new entry into the popular 1001 series of magical reference, expert author Cassandra Eason weaves ancient lore and contemporary research into a usable, fascinating guide to herbal healing. Each of these 1001 entries lists a plant, its physical properties, and its mythological associations, then offers a practical way to use it: as a tea, an essential oil, an amulet or talisman, or in a ritual bath. Gorgeous illustrations illuminate the many ways nature manifests its magic in the physical world. This is an essential reference for anyone who would like to understand correspondences and healing properties of any of this massive catalogue of flora.

Apple Blossom

(Malus spp.)

MAGICAL FORMS

often as Malus pumila and Malus domestica - state flower of Michigan and Arkansas - magically use the blossoms, growing on the tree or fresh and dried

PLANET AND ELEMENT

Venus - Water

fertility, especially for a first child - good fortune - new beginnings - for all poisons rituals, especially beneath a blossoming apple tree or within a circle of dried apple blossoms - for enhancing beauty and creating enchantment in love

HOW TO USE

Roll in fallen apple blossom to conceive a child, increase your prosperity or attract the right love - Burn dried apple blossom as incense before divination or meditation to connect with other realms, especially if you have Celtic ancestry - Add to bath salts to attract new love or before lovemaking - Share enchanted apple blossom tea with a hesitant lover or on full moon night if you are trying for a child and anxiety seems to be hindering conception - Alternatively, set a tiny basket with a ceramic or clay babe resting on a bed of fresh or dried apple blossoms on a window ledge facing the moon, milk bowl, and the next morning float the basket on gently flowing water, saying from the river to the sea, return to a healthy babe within me (or for my partner and me) - Sprinkle a trail of apple blossom tea drops from your boundary to your front door every Friday, the day of love, to call home an absent love

Do not eat the seeds.

Apple Cider Vinegar

(Malus spp.)

MAGICAL FORMS

has converted from cider made from fermented apples - traditionally still used as an ingredient in the ancient Four Thieves' vinegar with such ingredients as garlic, pepper, thyme, lavender, rosemary, peppermint, and dill, sealed for about a month in the vinegar and strained - It was used four times in southern France before into plague victims to steal and did not catch the disease if they covered themselves with the mix - as a result it gained a reputation as a cure-all - apple cider can be empowered magically to increase its accepted earthly boost for health and energy or in a drink or added to recipes, in salad dressings and even for shiny hair and youthful skin

PLANET AND ELEMENTS

Mars/Venus - Fire/Water

MAGICAL USES

mentioned with honey as a remedy for infections in the Old Testament and by Hippocrates the ancient Greek father of medicine to treat wounds - used by soldiers in the American Civil War as disinfectant - protects against psychic and psychological attack - empowered, it calms cravings, especially for food

HOW TO USE

It is used largely defensively either as the Four Thieves' vinegar or ordinary apple cider - vinegar as the liquid in spill bottles to break curses, hexes, jinxes, and ill wishes when it is placed in a dark high spot in the home and poured down a drain after a week, the jar washed in very hot water - Apple cider vinegar can be sprinkled around boundaries or a small quantity added to flour and doormat waxes to repel all those with malicious intent, both unwanted earthly visitors and restless spirits who may still occupy the land

CAUTION

Be careful with topical use as it can burn the skin. - Also avoid with pregnancy and breastfeeding as effects have not been fully researched.

A LITTLE BIT OF ASTRAL PROJECTION

An Introduction to Soul Travel
CASSANDRA EASON

- 30th title in this bestselling series!
- Cassandra Eason is the author of over 100 bestselling books, including the top titles in the Little Bit of series (including Auras, Palmistry, and Tarot), and the 1001 series
- There are no recent, accessible titles on astral projection, even though it has intrigued spiritual seekers for thousands of years. Interest in expanding our consciousness beyond the physical realm has manifested in recent articles on astral projection in publications like Dazed, Vice, and more

The idea that we can travel across the world – and even through space and time – without leaving the comfort of our home has fascinated humans for thousands of years. A Little Bit of Astral Projection teaches readers all about the history of this belief, how humans have studied and practised astral travel since the dawn of recorded history, and the first steps to trying it at home.

Tying in wisdom from a variety of disciplines, including trance and dream states, Cassandra Eason presents an anyone-can-do-it handbook that approaches the astral plane as an obvious reality, not an esoteric discipline. It will satisfy the curiosity of any spiritual seeker, and even those who just want to know more about the mysterious and otherworldly.

- This is a unique opportunity for art fans to glimpse the processes and inner workings of icons of the fantasy and sci-fi art genres

Featuring ten iconic artists who have captivated science-fiction and fantasy fans for decades, Master Sketchbooks will take you on a journey into magical worlds and endlessly creative minds.

These are artists that have created legendary concepts, designs, and creatures for hugely popular movies, books, and video games. Each master artist has their own eye-catching chapter, including sketches, development images, and finished pieces alongside written advice, thoughts, and insights into their unique creative process.

The artists featured include John Howe, whose paintings grace the covers of many works by J. R. R. Tolkien, and who was one of the chief conceptual designers on Peter Jackson's groundbreaking The Lord of the Rings and The Hobbit trilogies, and Wayne Barlowe, whose otherworldly designs have prowled the big screen in franchises such as Hellboy, Harry Potter, and Avatar.

VAMPIRE STATE

The Rise and Fall of the Chinese Economy
IAN WILLIAMS

- Now in paperback!
- Ian Williams tells the terrifying story of China's vampire economy – its single-minded and ruthless policy of the Party to bend economics and business to its own will
- It's an urgent, frightening and essential look at China's economy, its devious policies and its end goals both at home and abroad
- From the author of the acclaimed Every Breath You Take and The Fire of the Dragon, which was shortlisted for the Orwell Prize
- Ian Williams is an Emmy award winning journalist, author and former foreign correspondent who has reported on China for more than 20 years

State capitalism. Socialism with Chinese characteristics. A socialist market economy. There have been numerous descriptions of the Chinese economy. However, none seems to capture the predatory, at times surreal, nature of the economy of the world's most populous nation – nor the often bruising and mind-bending experience of doing business with the Middle Kingdom.

Rules and agreements mean little. Markets are distorted, statistics fabricated, foreign industrial secrets and technology systematically stolen.

IN THE SERVICE OF THE SHOGUN

The Real Story of William Adams
FREDERIK CRYNS

- Now in paperback!
- This is a superbly written, gripping biography of William Adams, the real-life inspiration for the TV series Shogun.
- Traces Adams' rise from humble pilot to a position of immense influence in feudal Japan
- Includes much previously unknown information from original Dutch, English, Spanish, Portuguese and Japanese sources

In 1600, English helmsman William Adams washed ashore in Japan, and was interrogated by Tokugawa Ieyasu, Japan's most powerful warlord and soon-to-be shogun. Far from executing Adams as a pirate, Ieyasu made him one of his most trusted advisers. This biography traces Adams's rise from humble pilot to a position of immense influence in Japan's foreign relations. It unravels the subsequent diplomatic manoeuvres of the Western powers in the shogun's empire, and Adams's eventual downfall. This is the first full biography of Adams based on original Dutch, English, Spanish, Portuguese and Japanese sources, and includes much previously unknown information. Frederik Cryns tells the authentic story of Adams's chequered life in its historical context, taking us on a compelling journey into Adams's complex inner feelings and cosmopolitan heart.

THE DIVINE ECONOMY

How Religions Compete for Wealth, Power, and People

PAUL SEABRIGHT

- Now in paperback!
- A novel economic interpretation of how religions have become so powerful in the modern world

Winner of the Bronze Medal, Axiom Business Book Awards 2024, Business Commentary

Religion in the twenty-first century is alive and well across the world, despite its apparent decline in North America and parts of Europe. Vigorous competition between and within religious movements has led to their accumulating great power and wealth. Religions in many traditions have honed their competitive strategies over thousands of years. Today, they are big business; like businesses, they must recruit, raise funds, disburse budgets, manage facilities, organise transportation, motivate employees, and get their message out. In The Divine Economy, economist Paul Seabright argues that religious movements are a special kind of business: they are platforms, bringing together communities of members who seek many different things from one another – spiritual fulfilment, friendship and marriage networks, even business opportunities. Their function as platforms, he contends, is what has allowed religions to consolidate and wield power.

THE LIARS OF NATURE AND THE NATURE OF LIARS

Cheating and Deception in the Living World

LIXING SUN

- Now in paperback!
- A natural history of cheating from selfish genes to lying politicians

Nature is rife with cheating. Possums play possum, feigning death to cheat predators. Crows cry wolf to scare off rivals. Amphibians and reptiles are inveterate impostors. Even genes and cells cheat. The Liars of Nature and the Nature of Liars explores the evolution of cheating in the natural world, revealing how dishonesty has given rise to wondrous diversity.

Blending cutting-edge science with a wealth of illuminating examples – from microscopic organisms to highly intelligent birds and mammals – Lixing Sun shows how cheating in nature relies on two basic rules. One is lying, by which cheaters exploit honest messages in communication signals and use them to serve their own interests. The other is deceiving, by which cheaters exploit the biases and loopholes in the sensory systems of other creatures.

Brimming with insight and humour, The Liars of Nature and the Nature of Liars also looks at the prevalence of cheating in human society, identifying the kinds of cheating that spur innovation and cultural vitality and laying down a blueprint for combating malicious cheating such as fake news and disinformation.

HUMANOCRACY, UPDATED AND EXPANDED

Creating Organizations as Amazing as the People Inside Them

GARY HAMEL, MICHELE ZANINI

- A powerful new edition of the Wall Street Journal bestseller that helps leaders build radically more human – and capable – organisations
- Big idea book from leading business/management thinkers
- Counterintuitive argument, that bureaucracy is still the biggest obstacle to innovation
- New and updated stories and case studies
- Lots of frameworks and advice

Now more than ever, we need organisations that are daring, resilient, and creative. Unfortunately, when confronted by unprecedented challenges, most companies and institutions prove to be timid, plodding, and orthodox. The culprit is bureaucracy. With its top-down power structures and rule-choked systems, bureaucracy hobbles ingenuity and innovation. In a time of upheaval, these long-tolerated impediments are fast becoming competitively and economically untenable. Humanity needs and deserves something better.

In Humanocracy, Gary Hamel and Michele Zanini make a passionate, data-driven argument for uninstalling bureaucracy and reinventing management as we know it.

GERMANY AND ISRAEL

Whitewashing and Statebuilding

DANIEL MARWECKI

- Now in paperback!
- A long overdue investigation sheds new light on a major episode in the history of the modern Middle East
- Reassesses German foreign policymaking and identity shaping, and raises difficult questions about German responsibility after the Holocaust

A radical reinterpretation of the relationship between two states whose history has always been intertwined, particularly revisiting Germany's involvement in the Palestinian question.

According to common perception, the Federal Republic of Germany supported the formation of the Israeli state for moral reasons – to atone for its Nazi past – but did not play a significant role in the Arab-Israeli conflict. However, the historical record does not sustain this narrative.

Daniel Marwecki's pathbreaking analysis deconstructs the myths surrounding the odd alliance between Israel and post-war democratic Germany. Marwecki reassesses German foreign policymaking and identity-shaping, and raises difficult questions about German responsibility after the Holocaust, exploring the many ways in which the genocide of European Jews and the dispossession of the Palestinians have become tragically intertwined in the Middle East's international politics.

Graham Berry and the Making of Australian Politics

SEAN SCALMER

- Now in paperback! July release
- First major biography of Graham Berry, a transformative yet neglected figure in Australian political history
- Appeals to readers of political history, biography, and democratic theory, as well as university and high school libraries

Shortlisted, 2020 Victorian Community History Awards

Graham Berry (1822-1904) was colonial Australia's most gifted, creative and controversial politician. A riveting speaker, a newspaper proprietor and editor, and the founder of Australia's first mass political party, he wielded these tools to launch an age of reform: spearheading the adoption of a 'protectionist' economic policy, the payment of parliamentarians, and the taxing of large landowners. He also sought the reform of the Constitution, precipitating a crisis that the London Times likened to a 'revolution'.

This book recovers Berry's forgotten and fascinating life. It explores his drives and aspirations, the scandals and defeats that nearly derailed his career, and his remarkable rise from linen-draper and grocer to adored popular leader. It establishes his formative influence on later Australian politics.

VOLCANOES IN HUMAN HISTORY

The Far-Reaching Effects of Major Eruptions

JELLE ZEILINGA DE BOER, DONALD THEODORE SANDERS, FOREWORD BY ROBERT D. BALLARD

- This panoramic book tells the story of nine epic volcanic events, explaining the related geology and exploring the myriad ways our planet's volcanism has affected human history

When the volcano Tambora erupted in Indonesia in 1815, as many as one hundred thousand people perished from the blast and ensuing famine. Gases and dust particles ejected into the atmosphere changed weather patterns around the world, resulting in the infamous 'year without a summer' in North America, food riots in Europe, and a widespread cholera epidemic. And the gloomy weather inspired Mary Shelley to write the gothic novel Frankenstein.

This panoramic book tells the story of nine such epic volcanic events, explaining the related geology and exploring the myriad ways our planet's volcanism has affected human history.

FEED US WITH TREES

Nuts and the Future of Food

ELSPETH HAY

- A new and ancient story about perennial nut trees, our ecological role as humans, and the future of food

The day Elspeth Hay learned that we can eat acorns, stories she'd believed her whole life began to unravel.

Until then she'd always believed we must grow our staple foods in farmed fields – the same fields wreaking havoc on our land, air, and water. But all over the Northern Hemisphere, Hay learned, humans once grew our staple foods in forest gardens centred on perennial nut trees: oaks, chestnuts, and hazelnuts. In Feed Us with Trees, Hay brings us along as she gets to know dozens of nut growers, scientists, Indigenous knowledge-keepers, researchers, and food professionals – and discovers that in tending these staple trees, we once played a vital environmental role as one of Earth's keystone species.

THE BUTTERFLY

Flights of Enchantment

NIGEL ANDREW

- Butterfly and insect populations are declining dramatically; learning about our relationship to butterfly species and their habitats is a first step towards protecting them

Butterflies have enchanted and intrigued us for centuries. From the eighteenth-century 'aurelians', through the Victorian 'golden age' of collecting to the twentieth-century focus on conservation, humans have chased glimpses of these beautiful but elusive creatures. Winding through literature, art, music, and dreams, The Butterfly: Flights of Enchantment uncovers why butterflies continue to inhabit such a profound place in our imagination.

A first of its kind in combining the history of human interest in butterflies with a guide to practical observation, this pocket guide encourages us to nurture our curiosity and head out into our local environment, focusing on edgeland habitats that are home to many species.

UNBROKEN CHAINS

A 5,000-Year History of African Enslavement

MARTIN PLAUT

- A new, full history of slavery in Africa, from the Pharaohs to the present
- Effective use of primary sources to discuss Africa's internal slavery, the enslavement of Europeans by the Barbary corsairs of North Africa, and modern-day slavery practices, amongst others

Slavery has ravaged African societies since at least 2,500 BCE, from Egypt to the Cape; from Mauritania to Somalia. Most writing covers just one fraction of this history: the horrors of the trans-Atlantic slave trade. Yet Indian Ocean slavery was equally sizeable, and far longer-lived. Historians often neglect the continent's internal practices, too – Ethiopian kingdoms enslaving conquered peoples; the Sokoto Caliphate capturing men and women on a scale matching the US plantations.

Unbroken Chains is the first full account of the bondage systems that have scarred African communities over the millennia. It is an illuminating, powerful read.

CENTRAL EUROPE

The Death of a Civilization and the Life of an Idea

LUKA IVAN JUKIC

- An absorbing journey through a region caught between history, geography and ideology

What is 'Central Europe'? Where do its borders lie? Does it even exist? Attempts to define it usually yield more questions than answers. But perhaps the wrong questions are being asked.

Luka Ivan Jukic disentangles the enigma of Central Europe through its birth, death and rebirth. Today, Poland, Croatia and even Ukraine proudly align themselves with it, and so with Western civilisation. But the term originally described an unrecognisably different world – one formed in the eighteenth century by the unique inheritance of the Habsburg dynasty across Germany and a sprawling Danubian realm; by the rise of standard High German; and by its intermediate position between an 'advanced West' and 'backwards East'.

- Featuring numerous original colour photographs, an extraordinary visual history of early Afghanistan

Afghanistan, at the meeting place of the Indian subcontinent, Middle East and Central Asia, holds a key place in the spread of ancient civilizations. Its remarkable cultural heritage includes the Bronze Age Helmand civilization, the Greek kingdom of Bactria, the Kushan Empire and the Ghaznavid Empire – yet much of its history remains unknown to a general audience. This beautifully illustrated book unveils Afghanistan's ancient cities, temples, stupas, monasteries and other monuments set against breathtaking landscapes, presenting them to a wider audience. Incorporating the latest research and discoveries, it is a captivating journey through Afghanistan's rich antiquities, brought to life with the author's vivid, full-colour photographs.

TAROT EMBLEMATA

Decoding Magical Symbolism (83 Full-Color Cards and 192-Page Guidebook)

NITASIA ROLAND, FOREWORD BY LAETITIA BARBIER

- Transport yourself to 16th-century France and connect with traditional archetypes
- Kit features gold foil stamping, a ribbon lift, and individually gilded cards

Tarot Emblemata is a magical and mystical tarot deck based on the 1551 book of emblems by Claude Paradin. Renaissance emblems are intimate illustrations with accompanying mottos that allegorically and symbolically express sentiments, concepts, societal concerns, and parables. These Renaissance emblems are a didactic genre of interpretive art and, within them, creator Nitasia Roland has discovered that their enigmatic imagery and 'mottos' correspond dynamically and align perfectly with the seventy cards of the Major and Minor Arcana of the tarot.

Capitalism and the Politics of Nature

ALYSSA BATTISTONI

- A timely new critique of capitalism's persistent failure to value nature

Capitalism is typically treated as a force for relentless commodification. Yet it consistently fails to place value on vital aspects of the nonhuman world, whether carbon emissions or entire ecosystems.

In Free Gifts, Alyssa Battistoni explores capitalism's persistent failure to value nature, arguing that the key question is not the moral issue of why some kinds of nature shouldn't be commodified, but the economic puzzle of why they haven't been. To understand contemporary ecological problems from biodiversity collapse to climate change, she contends, we have to understand how some things come to have value under capitalism – and how others do not. Ultimately, she offers a novel account of freedom for our ecologically troubled present.

THE JOY OF QUANTUM COMPUTING

A Concise Introduction

JED BRODY

- An engaging and accessible presentation of the most famous algorithms and applications of quantum computing

The Joy of Quantum Computing introduces quantum computing succinctly, and with minimal mathematical formalism. Engagingly written – a feast for the reader's inner nerd – it presents the most famous algorithms and applications of quantum computing and quantum information science, including the 'killer apps', Grover's search algorithm, and Shor's factoring algorithm. The only prerequisite is precalculus; readers need no knowledge of quantum physics. Matrices are relegated to the (completely optional) final two chapters. The book shows readers that quantum information science is about more than just high-speed calculations and data security.

TOCQUEVILLE'S DILEMMAS, AND OURS

Sovereignty, Nationalism,
Globalization

EWA ATANASSOW

- How Tocqueville's ideas can help us build resilient liberal democracies in a divided world

How can today's liberal democracies withstand the illiberal wave sweeping the globe? What can revive our waning faith in constitutional democracy? Tocqueville's Dilemmas, and Ours argues that Alexis de Tocqueville, one of democracy's greatest champions and most incisive critics, can guide us forward.

Drawing on Tocqueville's major works and lesser-known policy writings, Ewa Atanassow shines a bright light on the foundations of liberal democracy. She argues that its prospects depend on how we tackle three dilemmas that were as urgent in Tocqueville's day as they are in ours: how to institutionalise popular sovereignty, how to define nationhood, and how to grasp the possibility and limits of global governance.

HEGEL'S WORLD REVOLUTIONS

- A new account of the relevance of Hegel's ideas for today's world, countering the postwar anti-Hegel 'insurgency'

G. W. F. Hegel was widely seen as the greatest philosopher of his age. Ever since, his work has shaped debates about issues as varied as religion, aesthetics and metaphysics. His most lasting contribution was his vision of history and politics. In Hegel's World Revolutions, Richard Bourke returns to Hegel's original arguments, clarifying their true import and illuminating their relevance to contemporary society. Bourke shows that central to Hegel's thought was his anatomy of the modern world.

On the one hand he claimed that modernity was a deliverance from subjection, but on the other he saw it as having unleashed the spirit of critical reflection. Bourke explores this predicament in terms of a series of world revolutions.

MYRIAD, MICROSCOPIC AND MARVELLOUS

The World of Antoni van
Leeuwenhoek

GEERTJE DEKKERS

- The fascinating life and legacy of a pioneering seventeenth-century microbiologist

The pioneering Dutch microbiologist Antoni van Leeuwenhoek uncovered hidden worlds of minuscule life. With his ingenious, self-made microscopes, he observed inconceivably tiny creatures and structures everywhere, in well water, sperm, pimples and many other unlikely things besides. In the seventeenth century his discoveries opened the door to realms previously unseen, making him a renowned researcher.

Myriad, Microscopic and Marvellous explores Van Leeuwenhoek's brilliant and sometimes peculiar ideas, setting them in the context of his time. Geertje Dekkers reveals how Van Leeuwenhoek's curiosity and inventions propelled the study of nature in surprising new directions, leaving a legacy that is still admired three centuries later.

NATIVE AMERICA

The Story of the First Peoples

KENNETH L. FEDER

- An epic deep history of the Indigenous peoples of North America, covering more than 20,000 years of astonishing diversity, adaptation, resilience, and continuity

Native America presents an infinitely surprising and fascinating deep history of the continent's Indigenous peoples. Kenneth Feder, a leading expert on Native American history and archaeology, draws on archaeological, historical, and cultural evidence to tell the ongoing story, more than 20,000 years in the making, of an incredibly resilient and diverse mixture of peoples, revealing how they have ingeniously adapted to the many changing environments of the continent, from the Arctic to the desert Southwest.

Richly illustrated, Native America introduces close to a hundred different peoples, each with their own language, economic and social system, and religious beliefs.

THE POLITICS OF LANGUAGE

DAVID BEAVER, JASON STANLEY

- At a time when democracy is under attack, authoritarianism is on the rise, and diversity and equality are being demanded, this book offers a powerful new vision of the language of politics, ideology, and protest

In The Politics of Language, David Beaver and Jason Stanley present a radical new approach to the theory of meaning, offering an account of communication in which political and social identity, affect, and shared practices play as important a role as information. This new view of language, they argue, has dramatic consequences for free speech, democracy, and a range of other areas in which speech plays a central role.

Drawing on a wealth of disciplines, The Politics of Language argues that the function of speech is to attune people to something, be it a shared reality, emotion, or identity.

ELEANOR OF AQUITAINE

Woman, Queen and Legend

LINDY GRANT

- A concise, accessible biography of Eleanor of Aquitaine (1124-1204), the legendary queen of France and later England
- Sheds new light on Eleanor, cutting through the hearsay and slander with a close reading of primary sources

Eleanor of Aquitaine (1124-1204), the legendary queen of France and later England, has captivated historians for centuries. Heiress to the duchy of Aquitaine, wife to King Henry II and mother to Richard the Lionheart and King John, her life was marked by power, influence and myth. This concise, accessible history sheds new light on Eleanor, cutting through the hearsay and slander with a close reading of primary sources. It highlights the family bonds that shaped her power and identity, tracing her roots to the Loire rather than the Occitan south. Lindy Grant demonstrates that Eleanor's story is one of resilience.

CONFLICT AND LOYALTY

Jacobitism in Europe and Beyond

ALLAN I. MACINNES

- A critical yet sympathetic history of Jacobitism, the cause championed by the exiled Stuart royal house
- A rich story of plots, propaganda, and uprisings; Native American resistance and Black African slavery; European Enlightenment and Romanticism

Jacobitism, the cause championed by the exiled Stuart royal house, endured from the Revolution of 1688-91 until 1807, fuelled by plots, propaganda and uprisings – especially in Scotland. As the movement shifted from exiled courts in France and Italy to a wider diaspora, Jacobites spread across Europe, the Americas, Africa and Asia. From soldiers in European armies to settlers in British American colonies, Jacobites left a global impact: aiding Native American resistance yet also engaging in the enslavement of Black Africans.

SCIPIO AFRICANUS

The First Emperor

DEXTER HOYOS

- A major new biography of the formidable Scipio Africanus (235–183 BC), the first Roman leader hailed as Emperor, 'victorious commander'
- Explores the fortunes, fame and fate of a leader who outshone Caesar in military genius, yet was ultimately exiled due to political jealousy at home

Scipio Africanus (235-183 BC) commanded his first army at the age of 25, led a daring invasion in Africa to personally defeat Hannibal and secured Rome's dominance over the Mediterranean. In ten years of command he never lost a battle, employing bold strategies to triumph over six enemy generals. Charismatic, ruthless and self-confident almost to the point of arrogance, Scipio was the first Roman leader hailed as Emperor, 'victorious commander', a title later adopted by emperors.

THE EXPERIENCE SOCIETY

Life beyond Subjectivity

SVEND BRINKMANN

- A provocative account of today's 'experience society', where everything is now judged by personal experience, from online shopping to funerals
- Explores this cultural shift, examining how our reliance on subjective experience limits meaningful discussions and social cohesion

Value is measured by how satisfying an individual finds their experience, and the experience economy thrives on this desire for entertainment and fulfilment. Yet debates often reach an impasse when reduced to subjective feelings – whether offence is taken or criticisms are dismissed. Svend Brinkmann explores this cultural shift, examining how our reliance on subjective experience limits meaningful discussions and social cohesion. He argues for reclaiming a shared, objective reality, essential for tackling the major issues of our time, and for fostering genuine understanding beyond personal perceptions.

AMANDA LAUGESEN

- Captivating and quirky, Australia in 100 Words takes readers chronologically through Australian history to tell a unique story through language

Shortlisted, Prime Minister's Literary Awards 2025, Australian history

Bonzer. Arvo. Tucker. Sickie. Pash. Illywhacker.

There are plenty of words to choose from to tell the story of Australia – from iconic Australianisms like mateship, fair dinkum, and bogan to drop bears, budgie smugglers, and bin chickens.

And while you aren't likely to hear crikey, cobber, or wowser walking down the street, you will hear no worries, mate, and yeah nah. Words underpin myths and stereotypes of Australian identity; they have also obscured harsh realities and inequalities. Together, these words shine a spotlight on our culture, past and present.

TOWNSEND OF THE RANGES

PETER CROWLEY

- First comprehensive biography of one of Australia's most influential surveyors, generously illustrated with Townsend's own cartographic material

Highly Commended, NSW History Awards 2025, NSW Community and Regional History Prize

Surveyor Thomas Scott Townsend (1812–1869) is an elusive, almost legendary figure, closer to folklore than to history. His name is given to the country's second highest mountain, but the details of his career are obscure and his personal identity has remained a mystery.

Yet, if you live in southern New South Wales or Victoria, there is a good chance that your town or district has been influenced by his work: he covered a huge extent of territory and worked furiously hard in a career that spanned two decades. Townsend of the Ranges is a sensitively told, surprisingly dramatic biography of Townsend's life, from his early days as a junior surveyor in Australia to his time living as a recluse in London before his death.

VECTOR

A surprising story of space, time, and mathematical transformation

ROBYN ARIANRHOD

- A detailed exploration that will satisfy maths nerds, yet is filled with storytelling and history that will be approachable for those without a significant knowledge of mathematics

Shortlisted, NSW History Awards 2025, General History Prize

'The story I'll tell here is about the evolution of the way we humans record and make sense of all the data that swirl around us...'

Vector takes readers on an extraordinary 5000-year journey through the human imagination. The stars of this book, vectors and tensors, are unlikely celebrities. Yet mathematician and science writer Robyn Arianrhod shows how they enabled physicists and mathematicians to think in a brand-new way. Today, you're likely relying on vectors or tensors each time you pick up your mobile phone, use a GPS, or search online.

REMEMBER WHEN ... SNAPSHOTS OF AUSTRALIA FROM THE '50S TO THE '90S

BOB BYRNE

- Book is celebratory, fun and celebrates the unusual and the quirky – it's a popular book that will remind Australians of many things they thought they had forgotten

Remember loading up the back of the car and heading away with the family over the summer holidays? Being part of Beatlemania when the group toured in '64? Watching Dennis Lillee deliver a stinging bouncer in World Series Cricket? Or heading to the drive-in on a Saturday night?

Packed with over 180 photographs, Remember When ... is a sugar hit of nostalgia that reminds us of the bits of Australia we loved, the bits we've forgotten, and the unforgettable local identities and landmarks of yesteryear.

FUNGA OBSCURA

ALISON POULIOT

- An ideal entry point into the world of fungi, as well as a visual feast for the fungi expert, the book brings together over 100 stunning photographs of both well-known and hard-to-spot mushrooms, lichen and other fungal species

This book is about fungi, and the photography of fungi. The title – Funga Obscura – unites the two. Beginning in elemental landscapes of ice and rock, the book traces the evolutionary path of fungi as enablers of life on land, and creators of soils and forests. Crossing continents and ecosystems, we navigate lichen-covered landscapes, crawl in the fungal undergrowth, scale glacial extremes and duck between rainforest shadows.

WILD SCIENCE

Unexpected Encounters When Working in Nature

EDITED BY HELEN P. WAUDBY

- Over 20 fascinating and entertaining stories of success, challenges and unexpected events from fieldwork around the world

What's it like to study polar bears in the wild? How do you raise children among large carnivores? And how do you find a frog that no-one has seen for 40 years?

From deserts to rainforests and even the polar Arctic, scientists venture into the field to collect, observe and study the world's organisms and the environments they live in. But even with the best planning, unexpected weather, unpredictable animals and unforeseen encounters can occur. Wild Science: Unexpected Encounters When Working in Nature explores the precarious, hilarious and thought-provoking stories 'behind the science'.

IMAGINING A REAL AUSTRALIA

STEPHEN ZAGALA

- Strikingly designed and beautifully produced with captivating images throughout, telling the fascinating stories behind key Australian photographers and their game-changing photographs

Australian documentary photography was at its height from the 1950s to 1970s. A time of great flux – social, political and cultural – was reflected in the photographs of Max Dupain, Carol Jerrems, William Yang, Rennie Ellis, David Moore and others. A time when the gritty documentary photography that emerged in the US after World War II, hand-held film cameras, instamatic colour film, Polaroid cameras and the arrival of television all pushed photography in a revolutionary new direction.

OUR STREETS

The Regional Cities and Major Towns Project
NATIONAL LIBRARY OF AUSTRALIA, FOREWORD BY TIM ROSS

- A nostalgic collection of iconic styles of buildings, businesses and streetscapes from regional towns around Australia – swimming pools to RSLs and post offices

The images in this book are a snapshot of the Australian town, from Warrnambool to Broome, captured by the National Library of Australia's photographers in the 1990s. Each building is a reflection of the local climate, history, landscape and people, and yet there are commonalities. When we make a pitstop at a town on our summer pilgrimage to the coast or to visit relatives, recognise the surf lifesaving club, the public pool, a milkbar because we know the architectural language.

CRESSIDA CAMPBELL

- Generously illustrated, this book offers new insights into Cressida Campbell's life and work, featuring original research from curators, artists, poets and writers, as well the artist's own autobiographical notes

Cressida Campbell celebrates the career of an exceptional Australian colourist who has worked between painting and printmaking for over forty years. Combining keen observation with formal design, Campbell uses an innovative technique to create woodblock paintings and unique woodcut prints that take direct inspiration from the humble beauty of the everyday. Moving between still-life arrangements, domestic interiors, gardens and coastal panoramas, her stylised compositions intertwine life and art. Their astonishing detail and technical virtuosity are testament to Campbell's artistic vision and commitment.
